The Security Thing

When it comes to work, family, and a place in the community, a sense of security exercis-es a powerful hold on a man. And particularly nowadays when pension, hospital benefits, seniority and all the other trappings of State

These are all necessary provisions of our lety, but along with such other subtle in-mences as television and the countless other filtenees as television and the countiess other human factors that are built into our daily lives and constitute, in middle age at least, the "force of habit," they do not make for much in the way of a sense of adventure.

Where sor example are the Francis Chichester of Canadian society, men who, like Chichester, are willing to overcome odds, tuchulong ill-health and yes, financial difficulties, to stree out into the unknown—even if it is only to seek nothing more adventurous than work overzeas.

We do not suggest there are not risks in-volved in the latter enterprise — but for the many who are unemployed in Canada today, who have little more to lose, how many would be willing to try their hand in any Australia. New Zealand or South Africa — all of them countries with healthy economies and job opportunities — not to mention the United

Yet home represents "security," even to the jobless. And there are also such factors as "principle" and "solidarity" with ones fellow workers. Take the Lapaime postal delivery drivers of Montreal who, four months after the outbreak of the dispute which cost them their livelihood, still demonstrate daily on Parlia-ment Hill.

The factors which influence many a work ing man, whether in the professions or on the assembly line, are evident here.

Consider also the decision of the Ford Molor Company of the United States not to locate a 568 million plant in the UK, appar-ently motivated by a three-week strike, as well as the fact that this is the fourth large comp-any which of late has either shelved or dropped plans for establishing bigger plants in Britain.

One more asspicating bigger plants in Britain.

One more aspect of the security thing.

Jack Chambers of London, Ontario, recently sold a painting for the highest price ever paid to a living Canadian artist, Chambers dropped out of school in his youth, went from job to job and travelled around Europe. He developed pleurisy in Spain and has been told he has

Security has many guises. Most of us are unwilling to sacrifice what security we have. Some, like Chambers, have their reward only to encounter other obsteeles. But Chichester, he too had cancer — and survived.

Potter in Cabinet

Dr. Richard Potter's elevation to Cabinet mak, as Minister without Pertfolio, is necessarily of the Belleville hypotesian's clearly demonstrated qualities as member for the Quinter stiding, as well as in south legislature's standing committee on health.
Dr. Fotter han not always been in favor with his own party, as when he lost health committee chairmandship. His individuals are and his sharply etchnot concepts as to the stuture role of provincial politics on concaions were at waisance with party policy generally.
But Dr. Potter's political faighten, his concern for the need to inject fresh thinking into provier realises it must ride with the winds of change, and his read concern for the people of change, and his read concern for the people of change, and his read concern for the people of change, and his read concern for the special this province, could not be ignored.

It is not the top poet in the Cabinet, Nershould have hall read for his latently as a peanor windom and foreight. Dr. Potter is a man for the times in Outario.

That the Ulster police are now unarmed (one of the "reforms" introduced following earlier trouble), and on this occasion were engaged in keeping apart two jeering groups of Protestants and Catholics, can only serve to exacertate the mindless confrontation between these two factions.

If you have jobs to fill...

At 390 Canada Manpower Centres across Canada we're in the business of bringing together workers and jobs. We depend on employers to list job opportunities with us. With our telecommunications network, we put employers in touch with available workers from coast to coast, and often we train workers and move them to new job locations.

Take the case of Allan Ellis, 25, and Tony Cutulle, 22, of Toronto. Both had relatively unskilled jobs, subject to lay-offs and without too much of a future.

So they both contacted their Canada Manpower Centre, and Canada Manpower Centre, and a Manpower counsellor referred them to an aircraft benchessembly course, where Allan and Tony were trained on metal assembly. and riveting. Following gradua-tion, they were successfully assembling aluminum boats.

Like thousands of others trained under the Canada Man power Training Program, they were able to put their new skills to work on a full-time job. And another Canadian employer found the skilled workers he needed.

INCREASE VALUE · COMFORT · BEAUTY By ROLLINS LUMBER

HELLO - I'M MEL ABEL

I would like to talk to you about your home. First of all, do you have enough room or will you need more room in 5 years time? Do you have a room where you can entertain guests comfortably? Are there enough bedrooms to accommodate your needs? Do your children have a room in which they can play without breaking your valuables?

These are all common problems which I have encountered numerous times in my Home Improvement profession. Room additions by our experts here at Rollins Lumber not only solve the problem but can be done at a surprisingly low cost. The investment always proves to be worthwhile from the comfort angle and also in terms of the increased value of your home.

If the idea of an addition has crossed your mind - give me a call at 962-9184. I can provide you with a free estimate and possibly some helpful advice.

Possible Pipeline Routes

Discussions continue as to the best route for getting oil and gas from the Pauchoe Bay oil fields, on Alakak's north slope. One suggestion has been gippleine down the Mackennet River River valley, At about the Alberta-Northwest Territories border, it could head for Emerson, Man, and a link with URL piplines, or could hook into estiting pipelines in the Edmonton area. These line proposals compete with another involving a pipeline across Alakaks to the Popel of Valdeco in the West Coast. (CP Newsmap)

Be that as it may, participatery demonsary likely is here to stay. How better to get to the heart of malters than by this process of direct confrontation?

One way to reconcile the appareté conflict between our "individuality" and our "commonality" is to imagine a circle of infinite circumference, with seed, person standing on one point of it; so that while each of un has his own individual radius, each radius externée to a common centre.

The most foolish and un-answerable question I can in imagine is: "Why did the y marry each other", for the reasons are customarily so tangled and contradictory that recomposing the motiva-tions is as fottle as trying to unspread butter,

Even though inclement wintry weather conditions still prevail, previews of better things to come (fashion-wise) were much in evidence as Bridge Street UCW sponsord "Fashions from Woodley's" Wednesday afternoon and evening.

One other aspect of this appointment, We should have thought that with the emphasis on youth, Mr. Davis would have given this important post to someone of less advanced years, Mr. Grossman is 60 and he is the oldest man in the jiber cablinet save Arthur Wishart, Gr, who has moved to financial and commercial

Like Mr. Davis, there are several men in youth at least — is having its day in the new

With our own area now represented in the cabinet by Dr. Richard Potter as a Minister the cabinet by Dr. Richard Folter as a Minister without Portiollo, this makes for a triumvirate between here and Brockville — Public Works Minister James Audi (formerly tourism and information) makes his home in Brockville and the new Minister for Correctional Services is Sylvanus Apps, who is the member for King-aton and the Islands.

An Open Letter to Belleville and District Families

from Mr. David B. Thompson - The Thompson Chapel

In recent months there have been rumours to the effect that the Tompson Funeral Chapel was soon to be taken over by American interest. This is not so.

The Thompson family have served the people of Belleville and district for three generations (87 years). We intend to continue that service as Canadians as long as we are privileged to enjoy the confidence of so many people in this community.

We believe the needs of the families of Believille and district can be best served by those whose interest lie in the future of this country and this fine city.

To that we have dedicated ourselves.

New Hotel

New Hotel

Than are Four Seasons Molel, we are glad to note, is close to opening day. After a long and armous winter, the coming into service of the handsome new Belleville hotel until and retaining centre for Bell Canada personnel will be a welcome event for the community.

We recall there was talk of thritting Prime Minister Trudeau to Belleville for the occasional properties of the season of the principle of the properties of the prime of t

Speaking of dancing, the new hotel would do well to consider such a facility, say on a Saturday night dinner-dance basis, for this is something that is lacking in the Quinte area

Access to the hotel is another thing which may be puzzling many. Will it be via the Bay Bridge road and if so will there be a traffic problem? What a nightmare it would be in wind and drifting conditions such as we have been experiencing rycently.

Wanted - A Saint

If St. Patrick were around today — and if any country needs its saints it is Ireland — he would be hard put to it to banks the political demonst that plague that land, just as legend says he banished the snakes long ago.

The big day is not far off and where Ire-land is concerned most of the celebrating a big dome in Dublin, where there is usually a big parade. On the other hand, the reputed burial place of the saint is at Down Cathedral (Ang-lican) in County Down, which is in Northern Ireland.

In Nottherm Ireland, Unfermen wear the shamock, but is we have noted there is more open celebration of the day in the south. In the north too they are planning an Expo-style celestration this year to mark the Soft sunference of the soft
And if some latter-day St. Patrick could also appear on the scene and untangle the tortuous political threads, heal the divisions and bring peace to the land, he would surely be halled as a miracle-worker.

Make-Work Plan

The make-work program announced by the provincial and federal governments bears some similarities to one proposed in California recently by Governor Ronald Reagan.

The governor envisages a public work force which would provide personnel for play-ground supervision and child-care centres, as well as watchmen to curb a rising tide of vandalism in schools.

These and other California requirements are different from our own, as such areas are already taken care of here. Still, there is potential for other work activities and in Believille a sub-committee has been set up to see what can be done. A significant factor in the Reagan plan is that anyone refusing to join the work force will be denied further welfare aid.

Meanwhile, we would point out that there are potholes galore awalting attention, from the Bay Bridge, and Coleman street, to all points beyond.

The Spoken Word

On a bilerishon news program from King-sion the other night we heard a teacher taki-sion the other night we heard a teacher taki-ing about something withon heigh "in the de-cision-making process." There was also a ref-erence to the "gearing distantion." Why are educators, not to mention government people and public speakers generally, so enamored of these fancy pieces of largon, ranging all the way from the above to save grant general as getting down to the "nitty gritty".

Drug Use Can Have Adverse Effect on Health

The group of anil - psychoics drougs include the glossocialization of the property of the prop

Our ethical attitudes, however, may take much longer to sort out, because, as Julian Huxley aptly pointed out during a conference on Man arriag a conference on Man exploration and control of external nature has far outrue his exploration and control of his own nature.

Another reason for disliking Ali has been his as-neying habit of calling his about — predicting the ex-act densise of many of the 23 knockout victims in his unblemished 31-boot pre career.

Lions Finish Fairways' Season

By ERIC EMERSON

PETERBOROUGH -- Small things kept going wrong for the Believille Fafrways last night.

To start with, the team bus was an hour late in departing for a scheduled 7.30 game in Peterborough. When it fisally did get rolling, a number of key Fairway performers were cotupicuous by their absence.

the reasons were personal. Once under way, poor driving conditions, an accident that blocked lightway? reast of Peterborough, and some time spent stuck in a nonbank outside the Northcrest arena combined to make the Fairways over an hour late for the starting time of their fifth semi - final encounter. Although such tittle sections were enough to last the average hockey, term for might save great productions.

Quinte's Bruce Nickle has good reason for apprehension as he finds himself surrounded by Keith Watson, Wayne Glies and Peter LeBaron with Gary Donovan ready to lend assistance to his BCI Juhior teammates. The Collegians provided

Liberals Propose Court Changes

TORONTO (CP) - A Lib TORONTO (CP) — A Liberta party paper on Ontario court re-forms questions the shillity of a judge who has been verbally abused in court to deal impar-tially with the offender.

The paper, containing 72 reso-lutions for submission to the Ontario Law Reform Commission was made public Wednesday yt Vernon Singer, deputy party leader.

Mr. Singer asid he has been distressed by recent events in Quebec where judges have been curred at in court.

He said he questions "the detachment of a judge who has been sworn at to be able to deal impartially with the case."

impartially with the case. The paper also calls for abol-tshment of summer court re-cesses, greater use of summon-ses rather than the arrest and-bail procedure, creation of a full-time commission to review

The brief calls for night sit-tings of family courts and says Ontario should propose a na-tion -wide system of family

The Liberals also seek an end o imprisonment for non-pay-nent of fines in favor of collec-ion by civil process.

St. Ola

Goodnews for Ontario's working women: The Women's Equal Employment Opportunity Act.

We've come a long way in Ontario in eliminating discrimination on the basis of race, colour, creed, nationality, and age. Now let's make some yards for the biggest minority group in the Province: working women, with the Women's Equal Employment Opportunity Act. This new Law is designed to protect both women and men from iscrimination in employment on the basis of sex or marital status. It came into effect December 1, 1970, and applies to all companies employing six or more people.

 The Law says you can no longer be discriminated against because of your sex or marital status in being hired, fired, trained or promoted.

· And, if you're a woman and have worked for at least a year in a company employing 25 or more, you're entitled to 12 weeks maternity leave (without pay).

 Classifying jobs as "male" or "female" or maintaining seniority lists based on sex or marital status is now

- Help wanted ads can no longer ask for applicants of a specific sex.
- There's also a clause that prohibits retaliation in any form against any person who has made an inquiry or a complaint der the Act.

But the intent of the new Act goes far beyond its specifics. The key words are Equal Opportunity. It offers the opportunity to perform on an equal footing with the same chances of success or failure that everybody else has. And that's all most women want.

The chance to be equal. Not better.

Just equal. For more information on the new rights of women and men in Ontario contact the Women's Bureau, Ontario Department of Labour, 74 Victoria Street, Toronto 1, Ontario. Or telephone 365-1537.

Remember April?

If it has been a very costly period, in germs of mow removal and anding expenses, it has also shown that more equipment is needed to effectively counter storms of the magnitude experienced in recent verses.

The plight of residents isolated by winter rms, in need perhaps of food, drugs and dical assistance, is one of major concern at es like this.

Festival Controls

Yes, legislation is needed to govern the holding of rock music festivals in Ontario. There is talk of one being held on a Madoo township farm in July, and naturally there is concern about the problem of services.

omeern about the protein of services.
Such a gathering requires water, annitation, medical and traffic facilities, as well as policing—and these are resources which are beyond the spinal municipality. Hastings country administrator Carl Bateman says that in drafting regulatory legislation the problem is how to swood being discriminatory.

Is now to arous noung cuerninatory.

But this is not a matter of discrimination, it is one of ensuring that vital factors such as those mentioned above are taken into consideration. In this situation the interests of township citizens should be paramount. If the organizers of such festivats cannot fulfill such potential regulations then they should not be normitial.

Bul who is to take the responsibility? Mayor Russell Scotic says he believes provincial gorernment legislation may be forthcoming, and

Teaching Duos

In a day when many women have jobs it is not so often that they are found working right alongside their husbands. The Windoos Sin, in a recent feature on this theme, cites Dr. Carl Querbach professor of classics at the Uni-versity of Windoor, and his wife.

Mrs. Querbach also holds a doctorate and shares an office with her husband. At night they study and do the household chores: Their ten-month old son is left with a woman who has five children of her own Secuse of this, Dr. Querbach says the baby has "deryloped an open gregatounnen." Another baby is on the way, but Mrs. Querbach still maintains her schedule.

Closer to home we note there is another husband and wife team — at Centre Hastings excondary shool in Madoc. In a recent issue of The Intelligencer Mr. and Mrx. William McKlough were shown preparing for open backlesuch were shown preparing for open backlesuch as I the school. Mr. McKlough teaches hustery and his wife teaches French.

To work or not to work, in a job outside the home that is, is something husbands and wives must work out for themselves. We know of one overseas couple who are on the faculty of the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. Doubtless there are other twosomes who find such a life both practicable and intellectually stimulating.

Thirty-five Years Ago Today City's Downtown Under Water

By IAN BOBERTS

On March 12, 1836, St years ago today, the city of Belliville woke to a watery world of white which threatened to destroy much of the downtown area, left one man doed and 200 homeless.

Tons of ice, shifting with warmer temperatures and a downpour of rain, broke with a thunderous roar at 1.30 a.m. that day, gouging everything in its path in a race to the Bay of Quinte.

Lazier's Dem, the remainder of Lott's and Cosper's Dams, all in turn alowed down the torrest, but only briefly, as the tons of loe, water and debris gathered speed, rapidly valsing the level of the Hoders River to the residential district along Colemns Street and the business section of Front Street.

Pedestrians found the down town area impassible from the four corners, down, Front Street to the bay, with the area from Coleman Street to school teacher Krenneth S. Hill. Shity new automobiles were towed from downtown aboverooms to higher ground; city hall employees were trapped on upper floors as water rose-dreen below; most spectacular of a series of rescues was that of a small child suffering with plevnil postunosian rescued by firemen and rushed to the Belleville General Hospital; two hydro transformers were wathed out, pre-

City of the Future

It is easier to plan a citys transformation and put it all down on paper — high-rise apartments, roads, parkinal and all — but it is diet to pretend that between such a copept and what is here and now there are not problems and pittalis. Idle to pretend, moreover, that the gittering ideal is anything eise but years away from fruition.

Only four years ago there was the presentation of plans for a "Magic Circle" traffic system in the downtown area. A film was shown to illustrate what might be done to tidy up the area, and improve traffic flow and shopping facilities and there was a good gathering is the Hotel quinter to view it.

Jury Issue

Although found in contempt of court for refusing to testify at the non-capital murder trial of Paul Rose, Lise Baleer, 21, has raised a legitimate issue in protesting the fact that women are not permitted to sit on juries in Quebec.

We had not been aware of this face, but if it is so it is a clear case of discrimination, rich that jury service is something the clitters desires—it is tedous, time-consuming and distriptive where the jurar's business and family. He are concerned. Nevertheless, if women are not eligible it is not only a demail of their rights but is factor which could jeopardize the rights but is factor which could jeopardize the When women stand case. Settling Down

Not unexpectedly, the snowmobile furore is dying down. We hear less about accidents and trespassing, and more about the machine's obvious benefits in the face of a severe winter.

Snowmobiles have proved their worth in Moniteal, helping stranded molorists, delivering food, even getting people is hospital. And nowhere has winter been lougher than on America and the other islands down Kingston way. Now that is some admission, and it is ironic that it was made during a school-devised program entitled Heat's On. Mr. Wishart on the one hand justified his actions by stating the one hand justified his actions by stating that some of the measure were, necessary for the protection of the general population, and on the other and a proper behance must be derized to protect society as well as the rights of individual cilitans. Is Canada so affluent that it can afford this sort of thing? We say it is not, for the kind of reasons mentioned. Naturally, the East Africans are hoppy, with the Tananian minister at the signing, John Meleccia, noting that the interest-free loan was an example to other countries who could also lend money on sim-larly secremns terms.

Points for Parents By MARY BRYSON

Eating three meals a day is a learned habit, and a child may feel hungry more often. If your toddler seems to want tood letween meals, give him nourishing snacks that won't take ways his appetite as sweets will. Consider the snacks a supple-ment to the smaller portions he may eat at regular mealine.

Discipline and Pills

Degrees of assault in the eyes of the law are now so loosely defined that a young wom-an hitchhiker has only to threaten a benero-lent driver to get away with blackmail. Or con-ider the over-sensitivity of parents who take a teacher to courf for trying to exercise some mild discipline on young people in school.

In Newmarket recently a high school mus-ic teacher was acquitted on a charge of as-saulting a 16-year-old student. The judge not-ed that the teacher had taken the boy by the arm and guided him toward the door follow-ing an argument during a music class.

Common sense, said Judge Clare Morri-son, dictates that teachers sometimes must use force to maintain discipline in the classroom. Otherwise our educational system would de-generate into worse chaos than it appears to be in."

in."

We all know what the judge was talking about. Some students are insufferable. They are freakish in appearance, their manners are appalling, and an education is the last thing appalling, and an education is the last thing they want. Really they should not be in school, for all the interest they display in books, learning or their fellow man.

And when parents display similar imma-turity, by over-cracking to what appears to have been the very least in disciplinary meas-ures the teacher could have taken, then we can understand some of the problems the tea-ching profession faces in this regard.

Meanwhile, concern has been expressed by Another aspect of environmental ears, or lack not the which concerns us is dumping. Municipalities have areas set sadd for this purpose, but we are all familiar with car wrecks with the set of the s currous in this regard about, what looks like the beginning of a dump in a field at the corner of the Old Ficton Road and Highway 16 at Ross-more. There is evidence of abendoned hard-ware at the edge of the tree line back from the road, and there is an open gate which suggests there have been expeditions to that area.

This is in Ameliasburg township's juris-diction and we wonder just what is going on? What has been dumped there already is un-sightly enough, even from the road, and some control should be exercised over the situation.

Its wheelbase stretches 111 inches long. Any longer and Ventura II might be classed and priced as a bigger car (it already rides like one).

No less than five graduates of this city's athletic ograms have been making headlines in their re-ective aport callings

Gerry Goyer made the biggest splash, drawing billing in the current Hockey News edition's cov-age of the Western Hockey League.

The 34 year-old centre was a Portland castoff last season, and is turning out to be a $1,500 waiver bargain for second - place San Diego.

Goyer, who had a 12-23-40 season with Portland last season, amassed 24 goals and 59 assists in his first 63 games this campaign, leaving him tied for second place in the WHL scoring derby.

ermer Portland teammate Art Jones leads data, followed by Goyer and San Diego lines Courcy, each with 83.

Courty, who played at Scattle with Gulye Fielde nd Art Stratton — two of milior pro bockey's all me great middle — men — calls Goyer "the bes-ntreman I've played with."

"Goyer is similar to Fielder and Stration, ex-cept Gerry gives me the puck more. He can get you the puck in a situation where it's just you and the goalie. I'll take my chances in that situation any line."

Despite playing with an ankle injury for seven weeks this season, Goyer's assist and point totals were personal highs. He had seven straight seasons with Portland in which he accored 20 or notes goal before being called up for a beach - skiting assignment with Chicago Black Hawks two winters ago.

at with Chicago Black Hawks two winters ago.

"That really hurt," said Goyer, "And when I be back to Portland they had Norm Johnson to lace me. Art Jones was a fixture and they idn't use three centres like me."

Going up for waivers turned out to be a bless-ing in disguise. They did me a favor," Goyer asy, "although I was a Bulls sorred for a while. I almost wound up with my anister care."

Despile his consistent production. Goyery has never made a Weisern League all - star team or won the scoring championship. Right now, be'a a strong contender for both.

Long Time Between Playoffs

Former Believille junior B standout Larry Mavety did gain a WHL all star berth last season or the second team, and should do at least as well this

After 60 games this season, the solid Denver de-fenceman had 17 goals and 37 assists. His 34-point total left him tied for 13th place in the WILL scoring race, and the 'second' - highest producer on his club. A 1047-37 output last season beloed earn Mavety a second - team all - stare berth.

Cracked cheekbones only sidelined the rugged 28-year-old for one game this season.

Mavely, the subject of a Hockey Pictorial article now on the stands, is within a whister of attaining one of his personal pro bockey goals. In four WIH, seasons — one with Vancouver, ble jast three with the Spurs — Mavety has yet to taste playoff action.

Education Costs

For years proliferating edication costs

We can understand the teachers' concern about security. On the other hand they are not the most deprived members of society and they must be as aware as anyone of the increasing burden on the taxpaver of increasing salaries and equipment. As Eastings County board chairman Donald Williams has put It, "We have reached the bottom of the tax put it,

Or as provincial treasurer Darcy McKeough put it at a service club function in

This is not to say we want to see teacher their task any more difficult than it is. If there their task any more difficult than it is. If there must be cutbacks in spending, surely they can be made in the sphere of non-essential equipment or building programs, perhaps even in the reaim of the large salaries enjoyed by the higher echebons of the teaching profession. That way jobs may still be preserved without any serious loss in living standards any serious loss in living standards. If the teachers still insist such as spending restrictions are unrealistic they are large to the property of the pr restrictions are unrealistic, they will have to convince the Government in that regard. But they should consider the remark of one local high school principal, that school at one time had got along with a lot less money and could do it again.

Sinatra Retires

Frank Sinatar reportedly is relifting from show business. At 55 Sinatra says he hopes to spend more time now with his family and if that is so it is commendable. The singer hasbeen through the trauma of difforce, so too has his pretty and said - eyed daughter Namey, although we understand she remarried recentalthough we understand she remarried recent-ly. Indeed, it was as "The Voice" that Sinatra made and kept his reputation. He was and still is one of the best—if not the best—of his time in this lifed, and if he will not be seen on the boob tube again, even in a special or in a guest spot, those haunting tones will still seem close, and will live on through his records.

Regarding today's cartoon, Icarus in Greek iegend was the son of Dacdaius. Escaping from Grete by flying with wings made by his father, Icarus flew so high that the cun's heat milet de wax by which his wings were fastened, and he fell to his death in the sea. We foresee so such fate for Mr. Benson, only the fickle within of the political poil when that time comes around again. What then?

Censorship Talk

Recent criticism of the drama festival entry. "A Taste of Honey," has excited some comment locally and even discussion of the need for some degree of censorship of literary and theatrical content.

Is censorship not self - defeating though? Is comportant not serr - deteating though?

It whete the appetiter whereas letting the thing go, or ignoring it, tends to make the public lose interest. Besides, the mature person makes his own judgments and remains a confected to the property of the pro unaffected by unpleasantness and lack taste in book, film, stage drama or what ntness and lack of

A Trenton reader recently branded "A Taste of Honey" as "vulgar . . profane and lacking in plot." He said he had left after 50 lacking in piot." He said it reply from an ameliasburg resident noting that the language was that of a region of England which as knew and referring to the "compassion" which later enfolded in the play's dialogue.

Be that as it may, we refer now to a be that as it may, we refer now to a formal property of the property of the control of Telegram columnist McKenzle Forter. The Dowager Lady Jane Birdwood, he says in a piece from St. Anne's-on-the-Sea, is the most demonstrative opponent in Britain of permis

Readers may recall in this regard some words of former Soviet dictator Joseph Stalin, words of former Soviet dictator Joseph Stalin, quoted here, in which he outlined how western youth could be undermined by the widespread distribution of drugs. This is another way in which our society is being subverted.

Do we need censorship then? We do not think so. Just a greater awareness among citizens at large, so that they can make their own decisions — and hopefully the right ones.

Here Too

We have heard of it happening in Berlin, where east and west are separated by a wall, but why do such things have to occur across the 46th parallel. Mohammed Azam is a former Fijlian policium who recently took a trip into the United States from British Columbia. For reasons not explained he was refused renlry into Canada where his wife and two could be such as the control of the is at the Peace Aren Park, on the power or miles south of Vancouver, Azam, standing on the U.S. side and his wife, small som and baby girl, on the Canadian side. What sort of heart-less nonsense is this? Is there no end to the absurdity and nitwit edicts of governments in the world today?

Henry VIII Series

Canadians are currently enjoying the BBC television series on Henry VIII and his six wives. The series is extremely popular in Britain, taking riewers back to an era more turbulent perhaps than today.

The first of the series dealt with/betrayed but ever faithful Catherine of Aragon, while this coming Sunday we shall discover the fate of Anne Boleyn as portrayed by Dorothy Tut-and RING IS publicizing the performance in charming fashion — with a postcard portraying Miss Tutin in her role and a handwritten notification of the Sunday performance — malled to newspapers, for reasons not explained, in Vancouver.

But beneath New Zealand's bright, and happy facade, the baser elements of human nature, the good and the bad, reveal themselves as they do elsewhere. In the last year or two there has been a rash of strikes which followed a period of recession and unemployfollowed a period of recession and unemployment in a country that one knew amond full employment. Restlessness among some elements of the pounger set manifested itself in number of ways, in establishment of gange which indulged in party crashing and vandalism, and more recently in the appearance of hippin molecupies groups similar to the ones on this continent.

Divided Pakistan

If East Pakistan feels neglected by the western part of the country separated from it by 1,000 miles of Indian territory it could be that the east has no focal point on which to concentrate its national pride.

concentrate its national pride.

In the west the new capital city of Isiama-bad has been under construction for six years. It became the official seat of government in 1987 (20 years after the country became a sovereign nation). Rawajindil had been the interim capital since 1999 when it replaced Karachi as the capital.

Karachi as the capital. A second capital is planned for East Pakisian, but evidentity this is as far as things have developed. The difficulties of running a nation, fragmented as Pakistan is, are obvious, and we cannot help wondering if some form of self-government, if not outright independence, for East Pakistan, would not be the best answer to the problem.
